A Word from Irena Venglovskaya

MTU Head Administrator

Dear Friends,
Happy New Year!

May you experience more love, power, and joy in our God. May you participate in His miraculous deeds and bring abundant fruit in 2012!

Thank you for making our ministry possible through the sacrifices of your prayers, works, and donations. I am encouraged to see how much was accomplished through our ministry in 2011 and how many people received help and heard and saw Christ. And I look forward to new lives touched by His love and new opportunities that He has in store for us in 2012.

The opportunity to counsel abortion-minded women at the local abortion clinic and to bring our abstinence program to an additional 10,000 students of Zhitomir colleges and universities promise great spiritual impact in our pro-life work in the coming year.

Restructured disability services have increased our efficiency at least twice already. We hope that our rehabilitation center will become a more powerful tool in sharing God's love with children with disabilities, neglected by the society.

Humanitarian aid projects provided 58,000 lbs. of food, clothes, and medical equipment to the least of these both through

MTU programs and other charities and hospitals last year. At the same time, a high inflation rate and further impoverishment of the Ukrainian nation signals the growing need in such projects in 2012.

The spiritual impact of 130 moms attending our Bible studies, 34 families integrated into churches, 30 children involved in Sunday schools encourages us to keep our trust in God for His guidance in our work. We pray for a harvest of souls in 2012.

As we celebrate Lord's faithfulness to our ministry, we realize how great the need in God and His provision continues to be. And so we pray with Jesus' words: "Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field". And we invite you to prayerfully consider your involvement with MTU in 2012.
